

THE THIRD PATH INSTITUTE SERIES

YOU ARE THE STRATEGY: RELATIONSHIP-BASED EDUCATION

PRACTICAL | IMPACTFUL | CAPACITY BUILDING

Nelson Institutes are relationship and research-based workshops that deliver practical, engaging and dynamic professional learning experiences. In this three-part Institute, participants will learn the principles of relationship-based education (RBE) to implement strategies that put relationships first and develop adult/child relationships that help students learn and grow.

Educators from The Centre for Relationship-Based Education will be facilitating job-alike breakout sessions across this institute series.

Across all three sessions, participants will learn:

- Critical concepts underlying a relationship-based approach
- How to build regulating relationships and supportive environments
- The importance of joy, gratitude and optimism to student well-being and academic success
- Practical steps for the systematic implementation of relationship-based education and The Third Path
